PLANTATION PROGRAM

Plantation programme was organized in our area. Planting is the process in which tree seedlings are transplanted generally for forestry, land reclamation, or landscaping purposes. Tree plantation is very necessary because trees provide oxygen to the environment and make the air quality better. If more trees are planted, then the world's environment will become a safer place to live in. Tree plantation also reduces pollution, thus making the life of future generations secure. Through this tree plantation essay, one will have a clear overview of this topic.

Benefits of Tree Plantation

Plants have a complete cycle of taking in Carbon Di Oxide (CO_2) and giving out Oxygen. CO_2 . Thus planting more trees would help in reducing the amount of CO_2 that is present in the atmosphere.

The more the number of trees are planted, the cleaner the air will get. Having enough oxygen and reduced CO_2 would make the air clean and free from pollutants.

Planting trees makes the environment immediately more beautiful. Trees help prevent soil erosion. They also absorb different pollutants and thus make the air-water and earth cleaner.

ANIMAL WELFARE PROGRAM

Our organization have organized Animal Welfare Program.. Animal welfare refers to the quality of life experienced by an animal and encompasses how well the animal is coping with his or her current situation and surroundings.

We believe animal welfare is affected by the relationships human beings have with animals and it is our duty to ensure all animals are treated humanely, responsibly, and with respect.

This includes consideration for all aspects of animal well-being, such as the Five Domains of animal welfare. Animal welfare should be at the forefront of every human action involving animals.

Animal welfare is the relationship between humans and animals as well as the duty that the animals under their care are treated humanely. The animal is said to be in a good state of health where it is healthy, comfortable, well feed, able to express its natural character and not suffering from adverse conditions i.e., fear, pain and distress. Good animal welfare requires disease prevention of animals, management of animals, veterinary treatment when animals are sick, animal care, balanced nutrition, appropriate shelter, humane handling of each animal and humane slaughter
