HERBAL GARDEN PLANTATION

Herbal Garden Plantation programme was organized in our area to grow Medicinal and Aromatic plants (MAPs) which are having preventive and curative properties against diseases or ailments. Most of the herbs that you can grow at home need two things — sunlight and well- drained soil. This means that when considering places in your yard to plant an herb garden, you need to look for a location that gets six or more hours of sunlight day and that is well drained.

1. To encourage and promote people to introduce the herbal garden concept.
2. To inculcate a sense of familiarity with surrounding biodiversity and its conservation, especially herbal plants.
3. To educate people in identifying different types of herbs and their uses including growing them in a garden.

These are the plants which are used for medicinal herbs.

AYURVEDA AWARENESS PROGRAM

A very auspicious Ayurveda Awareness programme was organized in our area to create an awareness regarding Ayurveda. Ayurveda emphasizes on both prevention as well as cure. Ayurveda teaches a range of daily routines for complete control and balance of dosha as and ensure optimum health. Ayurveda also lays down in numerous methods, medicines and measures to permanently cure diseases and prevent future re occurrence. Based on the idea that disease is due to an imbalance or stress in a person's consciousness, Ayurveda encourages certain lifestyle interventions and natural therapies to regain a balance between the body, mind, spirit, and the environment. Ayurveda offers extensive therapies and remedies for the young, old, sick, healthy, and everyone in between.

This 5,000 year old medicine system that originated in India has many life-altering benefits. Here are some of the primary benefits that one can achieve with consistent use of Ayurveda. A healthy diet and modification in lifestyle habits through Ayurveda treatments help shed excess body fat. In Ayurveda, weight is not a major concern but eating habits are. By allowing the body to detox through correct dietary restrictions, it is possible to achieve a toned body.

Thus, Ayurveda translates to knowledge of life. Based on the idea that disease is due to an imbalance or stress in a person's consciousness, Ayurveda encourages certain lifestyle interventions and natural therapies to regain a balance between the body, mind, spirit, and the environment.

ENVIRONMENT AWARENESS PROGRAM

Environment awareness program was conducted to provide every person with opportunities to acquire the knowledge, values, attitudes, commitment and skills needed to protect and improve the environment; To create new patterns of behavior of individuals, groups and society as a whole towards the environment.

Environmental awareness helps individuals – like you and me, understand our decisions and actions and how this would affect the environment. Environmental awareness enhances our decision- making when it comes to dealing with our nature. This gives us ways to take better actions in helping in preserving our environment.

Environmental awareness means being aware of the natural environment and making choices that benefit the earth, rather than hurt it. Some of the ways to practice environmental awareness include: using safe and non-toxic building supplies, conserving energy and water, recycling, activism, and others. ANIMAL WELFARE PROGRAM

VIVEKANANDA EDUCATIONAL & GOSHALA. organization organizes the programme. Our people are working in the implements: servicing the machinery, maintaining them, treating them, providing fodder and water. In the last few days, many customers had accidents, many customers did not eat food, many customers left them on the road, so that they could not eat food & water, due to which they become weak. Cow is dying, we are busy in our life, we don't have time to feed people, we use dairy products to serve animals, but we don't care for animals. Our people have started this work.

Animal welfare is the relationship between humans and animals as well as the duty that the animals under their care are treated humanely. The animal is said to be in a good state of health where it is healthy, comfortable, well feed, able to express its natural character and not suffering from adverse conditions i.e., fear, pain and distress. Good animal welfare requires disease prevention of animals, management of animals, veterinary treatment when animals are sick, animal care, balanced nutrition, appropriate shelter, humane handling of each animal and humane slaughter.

SANITATION AWARENESS PROGRAM

The programme was conducted with representatives and delegates from the VIVEKANANDA EDUCATIONAL AND GOSHALA on Sanitation Awareness Programme. "This programme aims to create awareness on health and hygiene practices among the women, adolescent girls and school children, help to motivate them to use and maintain sanitation facilities at schools and their community surroundings, inculcate better hygienic practices and make the children understand the importance of keeping the school, home and village premises clean and thus reduce incidences of diseases. It also includes programme for community members such as cleanliness drives and promotion of kitchen garden in homestead. When sanitation conditions are poor, making improvements in health may have minimal impact on the community. Therefore, PRIDE strives to make a change in every aspect"
